Clubhouse

The Clubhouse is a 150 year old Grade II listed building in the heart of the Cheshire countryside, which is surrounded by trees, lawns and putting greens to the rear and side elevation.

The Cocktail Lounge, which can be used for Conference Facilities & Societies, overlooks the rear putting green and patio areas, and can quite comfortably accommodate up to 80 delegates.

History of Leigh Golf Club

A group of 29 local businessmen established the Club in 1906. They purchased a small area of land to the north of the B5207 (Holes 9 to 17). These Gentlemen decided on the layout of this 9 hole course. For a short period of time a local hostelry, the Kenyon Junction Hotel, was used as the Clubhouse. These arrangements did not last for very long and a small Clubhouse, located on the site of the present 9th Bar, was built.

By February 1919, the Membership had increased to 192. The Members started to investigate the possibility of purchasing/leasing more land in order to expand the course to 18 holes.

In 1924, local landowner Sir Edward Johnson-Ferguson offered the building which is the current Clubhouse and sufficient land to build another 9 holes, to the Club and a lease agreement was signed. Mr H Hilton, the well-known amateur of the time, was commissioned to lay out the extra 9 holes. The 18 hole course was opened for play in May 1925. The course was used for grazing sheep through the period of the 1939-45 war.

In 1956, the Johnson-Ferguson family offered the Club the opportunity to purchase the Clubhouse and land. An Issue of Debentures to the Members raised the money. All the Members were eventually fully reimbursed for the loan. Since that time, the Club has managed to purchase more land when it has become available. Much of the land lies around the perimeters of the present Course. The present Members owe a lot to the foresight of those 29 Gentlemen and others and it is hoped the Club will go on being a "little gem of a Course" for many years to come.

The Professional Golf Shop is managed by our Professional, Andrew Baguley who is well respected on the Professional Players Circuit and has been the Professional at Leigh Golf Club since 1989.

Club Mark was introduced in 2002 by Sport England which recognises and values the commitment made by Sports Clubs to develop high quality, welcoming environments for young participants.

The development of Clubs that encourage young people to take up sport, improve their talents, possibly play a leadership role and give them the option to initiate and maintain lifelong participation in sport is an essential part of supporting the sporting infrastructure in England.

Security

We have a 'Bollard Security System' to prevent unwanted vehicles entering and exiting the Club grounds. These were established to protect the vehicles and equipment of the Members, Visitors and Guests.

The exit bollard is operated by use of a swipe card or token. Tokens are available from behind the Bar or the Professional Shop.
